Grasse

Galimard's Studio des Fragrances was developed to reveal the secret of perfume making which has until recently always been closed to the public. You have no doubt dreamt of the day you would find your own personal fragrance. One that is exclusively you. The scents and smells that will remind you of fond memories, of people, places and things which seduced you. A scent uniquely "you", one which will distinguish you from all others.

In the "Studio des Fragrances", a Perfumer will change you into a Perfume creator. Galimard has been the pioneer and recognized leader in this art since launching its first Studio des Fragrances in 1996. Comfortably seated at your organ of 127 notes, you will discover the different base products and the techniques used to combine them harmoniously.
